VOLUME 26 JANESVILLE, WISCONSIN, THURSDAY, JULY 27, 1882. NUMBER 114

Republican Congressional District Convention.
FIRST DISTRICT.
A Republican Convention of the First Congressional District of the State of Wisconsin, composed of the counties of Kenosha, Racine, Walworth, Rock and Jefferson, is hereby called to meet at the village of Geneva, in Walworth county, on the 15th day of August, 1882, at 10 o'clock noon of that day, to nominate a candidate for Congress for the District for the next ensuing two years. Each Senate and Assembly District will be entitled to two delegates in the convention.

JOHN R. BENNETT,
D. B. HAINES,
E. ENOS,
P. G. FISHL,
H. S. THORP,
Committee.

Republican Senatorial Convention.
A Republican Senatorial Convention of the Seventeenth Senatorial District, comprising the county of Rock, is hereby called to meet at the Court House, in the city of Janesville, on the 15th day of August, 1882, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon of that day, to select two Senators to represent the district in the next ensuing session of the Wisconsin Legislature. Each county in the district will be entitled to one delegate in the convention.

JOHN R. BENNETT,
S. T. MERRILL,
I. M. BENNETT,
S. S. NORTHROP,
WM. H. TRIPP,
Committee.

Assembly Conventions.
THIRD DISTRICT.
A Republican Convention of the Third Assembly District, Rock County, is hereby called to meet at the Court House, in the city of Janesville, on Monday, August 14th, at 2 o'clock p.m., to choose two delegates to represent the district in the Congressional convention that meets in the village of Geneva, August 15th, to nominate a candidate for Congress. Dated July 20th, 1882.

F. A. AMES,
S. C. GARD,
JAS. HADDEN, Jr.,
Committee.

The biggest show on earth is the small grain crop.
If many more counties elect delegates favorable for Assembly Price for Congress, he will have almost a clear field.

The Regular Republicans in Pennsylvania are gaining ground since they refused to compromise on the humiliating terms proposed by the bolters.

Some of the best work the Republicans have done during the session which will soon close, was to turn out a lot of Democrats who were never elected. The country will not forget this excellent piece of business when election comes.

It is said by the Democrats that if the party in Pennsylvania doesn't sacrifice its present opportunity it will carry the State. But that little "it" is bigger than the Democrats. The Democratic party was never known to lose a chance to sacrifice an opportunity. That is one of its old-time principles.

The convention for the Third congressional district has been called to meet at Monroe on the 14th day of September next. There is a number of candidates for the nomination, but who will get the prize is not known. There is a belief that Mr. Hazelton will be renominated, but the result of the convention can hardly be conjectured at this time.

Mr. R. C. Spencer, father of the little boy who was drowned in Milwaukee, says he will not divide the $250 reward among the three boys who found the body of his lost son, but will give the boys an education in his business college. We understand the boys are poor, and why not give them the reward to which they are entitled, and then talk of giving them free tuition in his college?

If some well informed Democratic editor or politician would only tell us when the Democratic party experienced a change of heart in regard to political assessments, some good may come from it. When the Democrats were in power they never failed to make political assessments, and pretty heavy ones. Then they tried the holders of offices about three per cent, and this tax was collected with all the finances of law. That the Democrats made political assessments is no reason why the Republicans should; but it shows that the cry of the Democrats about civil service is all a sham, for not in the entire history of that party, from Jackson till now, has it attempted to reform the civil service. It doesn't believe in it any more than a liberal thinker believes in a lake of fire.

There were a good many in Madison, and in fact in other parts of the State, who hoped that Senator George B. Burrows, of that city, would enter the contest for the congressional nomination in the Third district, but it is said that he could not be induced at this time to allow his name to be used as a candidate. His private business is important and is still growing and needs much of his personal attention, and therefore in justice to himself he could not consent to be a candidate. Senator Burrows is one of the most practical men we have in the State Senate. He not only has a wide personal influence, but he carries about him that extensive knowledge of men and things, and understands so well the political systems and history of the country, coupled with industry and a progressive spirit, that he would make a thoroughly good Congressman. Some day the Third district will be glad to honor Mr. Burrows with a nomination and thereby do itself a good service.

The trouble which broke out in Lawrence University at Appleton last spring has been settled, and the prospect for a large attendance next term is exceptionally good. Professor Sawyer, who had the class in philosophy and German, was relieved, his sympathy being on the side of the rebellion in the college, and President Huntley will teach philosophy in his school, and Professor Perkins will take the class in German. Seven students, who aided and abetted the rebellious outbreak, asked to be honorably dismissed, but the faculty granted only four. This settles the matter, and the administration of the University has been sustained. The many friends of Dr. Huntley will congratulate him upon his success in bringing the school so successfully out of the difficulty into which it was so unfortunately thrown. He was firm in the position he occupied, the faculty were with him, and the press and the people throughout the State gave him their support. He was right, and right has prevailed, and the rules of the University will hereafter be obeyed and respected.

THE HENNEPIN CANAL.

WASHINGTON, July 26.—The friends of the Hennepin Canal, under the leadership of General Henderson and Colonel Davis, mustered their forces this morning and read the riot act to the followers of the railroad monopolies. The result was that the impression soon gained ground that they had the strength to put the measure through, as was predicted in these dispatches last night. As soon as it was seen that they were strong enough to succeed, they had no trouble, and a score of new recruits made haste to join the winning side, so that the conference report went through with a majority of 23, where it had been beaten by a majority of 15 on the vote last evening. The bill provides for the survey and location of the canal, provided the people vote to turn the Illinois and Michigan Central over to the government.

WIFE-MURDER.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., July 20.—A terrible tragedy occurred here this afternoon. Daniel Goggins, a confirmed inebriate, went to St. Mark's Home, where his aged wife, who was compelled to leave him on account of his dissolute habits, was stopping, and deliberately stabbed her in the face, neck and breast, six times in all, when she fell to the floor and expired in the presence of the female inmates, upon whom he turned with savage fury. He was seized by the physician and male attendants, who disarmed him and turned him over to the police. The couple were about 60. The woman was much respected, and tried hard to restrain the drunken wretch. They had three sons living, two here and one in Little Rock, Ark. The murderer is safely in jail and will soon meet the extreme penalty, which in this State is imprisonment for life.

THE BLANCHARD DIVORCE.

CHICAGO, July 26.—The announcement from Racine that Mrs. Sadie Blanchard had obtained a decree of absolute divorce from Ratin P. Blanchard, on the grounds of cruelty and non-support, caused some sensation in Chicago. Blanchard is a lawyer here, and was at one time worth $600,000. In the divorce proceedings it was alleged that he had lost his fortune and gotten so far on the ragged edge that his wife was compelled to do washing to support herself and children. Mr. Blanchard said to-day that he was married in 1879, when he was in comfortable circumstances. His wife was now 31 years of age. During the winter of 1879, because of his losses she became dissatisfied. In 1882 she filed a bill of divorce. "As to the charge of non-support," he continued, "I would say in 1879-80 and 1880 she spent from three to seven months of each year at resorts in Wisconsin, at Geneva Lake, Waukegan, etc. A man does not send his wife to such places to starve. I shall appeal the case, not but what I would be willing to have a divorce, but I want the custody of my children and see that they are well educated."

AN UNFAITHFUL WIFE.

New York, July 26.—The wife of Christopher Gerske, a resident of Hoboken, employed on one of the Havana steamers, on going on his last trip induced him to deposit $1,000 in the bank in her name. When he returned home yesterday he found that his wife had fled, taking with her her children with a foreign husband, all the household furniture worth removing, and the $1,000 which he had deposited in her name. To-day he learned that his wife was accompanied by a young man named Julius Schmidt, and before a police justice, he charged Schmidt and his stay daughter, Mary Pultz, with larceny. It was ascertained that the parties have taken refuge in Chicago, and an officer will be sent to secure their arrest.

A REWARD IN CONTEST.

BLOOMINGTON, July 25.—There are now no less than five claimants for the reward of $800 offered for the arrest and conviction of Palsey Devine, who was hanged in Clinton in May for the murder of Aaron Goodfellow in this city three years ago. The claimants are Detective Butler, of this city, who assisted in ferretting Devine out and bringing him here from New York; Marshal Kubus, of Alton, who gave clues as to his whereabouts; the widow of Officer Chalmers, of Alton, now dead, who made the arrest; Mike McElhugh and Jim Downey, of Bloomington, who were acquainted with Devine, and first "put on" the officers here. Steps have been taken to have the court settle the question as to who is the person entitled to receive the reward.

BETRAYED.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 26.—After a chase of many months, Mr. G. W. Cole, a well-known detective, to-day arrested one James Randall, wanted at Springfield, Ill., for the murder of Frank Arnett, on the 23d of September 1881. Randall after the murder, fled to Iowa, and a few months ago came to this city and sailed under the name of James Smith. He had been working in a livery, stable, and says he is willing to go back without a requisition. When arrested he attempted to escape, but the officers were quick for him, and had him revolved on his hands as they held him to hold up his hands. A woman with whom Randall had been living was the cause of his arrest to-day.

DISCOVERED IN TIME.

NEW YORK, July 25.—At the branch postal L. at One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street, there was mailed to-day a package which was neither addressed nor had the postage prepaid, but upon which the clerk had stamped "Held for postage," and then forwarded to the general office. On examination by Mr. Jones at the inquiry department, it was found to contain a piece of blasting cartridge, with the fuses already attached. The package was quickly brought in contact with a pail of water, and it any malicious purpose was intended it was promptly averted.

SALE OF LUMBER LAND.

Eau Claire, Wis., July 26.—A deed was filed in the office of the register of deeds conveying a large tract of pine land in the town of Lexington, this county, from Amos B. Babcock, of Canton, Ill., to the Northwestern Lumber Company of this city, in consideration for some $36,000 cash.

SOLD FOR $3,500.

MILWAUKEE, July 25.—Wade Cary, of St. Joseph, Mo., to-day sold his fine four-year-old brooding mare, Mabel H., to J. I. Case, of Racine. The price was $3,500.

The Dog Kissing Girl.

The custom that some young women have of kissing poodle dogs is the means of driving many young men to dissipation. On Thursday evening last week a young Chicago man, came into the Palmer House bar-room, at Chicago, and asked for a drink of raw whiskey, with perfunctory in it. He had a wild look in his eye, and the bar-tender set out the whiskey, and asked what kind of perfume he wanted in it. He said "Anything!" Put in some bitters, a little kerosene, squeeze an onion over it, and rub the edge of the glass with some ammonia. But he said he spelt out "Four on Oil" and he spelt out "Four on Oil." The bar-tender put in several bad tasting things, and gave the glass to the poor young man, and he swallowed it, and asked for limburger cheese. The bar-tender gave him a piece of an old overshoe to chew, and he seemed relieved, and after he had become calm he told the bar-tender what was the trouble. He had been calling on a girl and she owned a poodle. All the evening she would kiss that dog on the nose every few minutes, and when he got tired to come away she threw her arms around his neck and they indulged in a kiss that under ordinary circumstances would have pulled the filling out of his teeth, but he said it tasted doggy, and almost made him sick. He tried to get away, but she clung to him, and again put her lips to his, and he said he felt as though he should die, and he got away after a while and rushed for the nearest saloon, where he downed his Mornormin in to-day stronger, more aggressive and more active than ever.

A Wonderful Map.

At the nobles' school in Tokio, Japan, is a physical map of that country 800 or 400 feet long, in the court behind the school building. This map, or model, is made of paper and rock, and is bordered with rubbles which look at a little distance like so much water. Every inlet, river and mountain is reproduced in this model with a fidelity to detail which is simply wonderful. Latitude and longitude are indicated by telegraph wires, and tablets show the position of the cities. Ingenious devices are employed in illustrating botanical studies also. For example, the pine is illustrated by a picture showing the cone, leaf and dissected flower, set in a frame which shows the bark and longitudinal and transverse sections of the wood.

The Great Growth of Mormonism.

The growth of the sect is absolutely wonderful. In 1860 its number was 40,000; in 1870, 87,000; to-day it is not less than 250,000 in Utah and the adjacent Territories. Its progress has eclipsed even that of Methodism; and in spite of the Pacific railroads, the death of Brigham Young and the general spread of enlightenment and fraternal ideas, all of which were confidently expected to hasten its decline, Mormonism is to-day stronger, more aggressive and more active than ever.

From an address in San Francisco, by Dr. Jewell.

they found in a vacant lot, and fighting over it, and the tail was in old one that had fallen off a butcher's wagon. O, see that my grave is kept green, and put an iron fence around it, to keep dogs away. Give me another drink."

The young man had drunk enough, and the bar-bender called a porter to show the young man to his carriage, and see him home, and he went out with his hand on his stomach, swearing eternal vengeance on all dogs. Young woman who despised the man who puts the cup to his neighbor's lips, to steal away his brain, should be careful about putting the unsavory dog's nose to their own lips. They may catch the dog diemtemper, and have to drink gunpowder and mill.

Anecdotes of Correggio.

There are several anecdotes related of the great Correggio, one is that, when he first saw one of Raphael's great pictures, he gazed upon it a long time, and then exclaimed, enthusiastically: "I also am a painter!" and, I dare say, he then felt himself moved to try if he, too, might produce pictures which should live and bear his name through future centuries.

When Titian saw Correggio's frescoes at Parma, he said: "Were I not Titian I should wish to be Correggio." Amiable Correggio, another great artist, said of Correggio, more than a century after that master's death: "He was the only painter" and he declared that the children painted by Correggio breathe and smile with such grace that one who sees them is forced to smile and be happy with them.
